Arriving at MOCRA

MOCRA is located on the campus of Saint Louis University in midtown St. Louis. MOCRA sits at the intersection of West Pine Blvd and Spring Ave. The streets are closed off to vehicular traffic and form a pedestrian mall on the campus.

There is a clock tower (4) at this intersection.

MOCRA is part of Fusz Memorial Hall on the southwest corner of the intersection. It has its own entrance (3) – look for the steeple on the corner of the building.

MOCRA is a short walk from Lindell Blvd at Spring Ave to the north, or Laclede Ave at Spring Ave to the south.

Parking

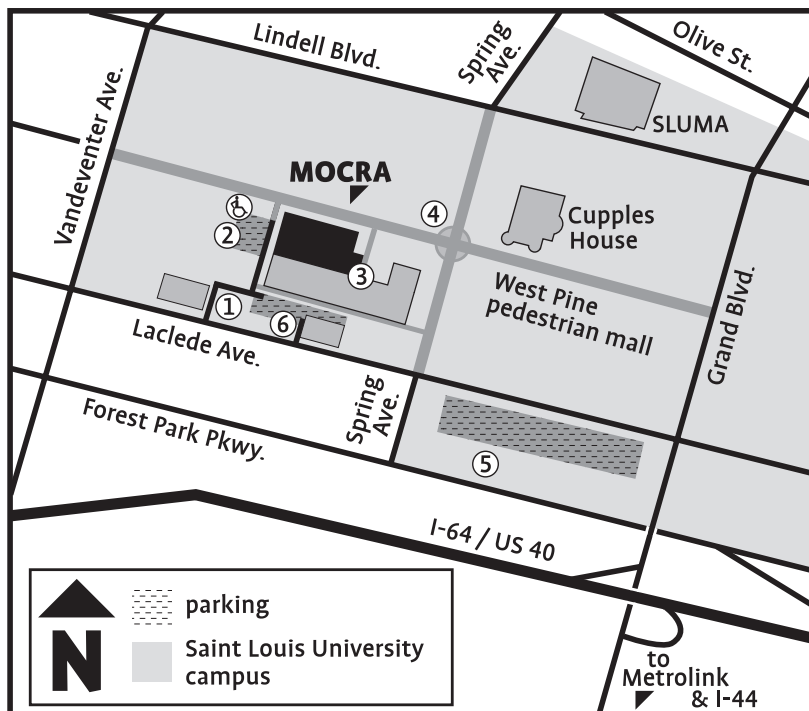

Special conference parking

Guests attending the conference Art and the Religious Imagination on Sunday, March 29, can park for free in the Laclede Classroom Building parking lot. Enter the driveway adjacent to the building (6) at 3721 Laclede Ave (formerly Forest Pharmaceutical). With Laclede Ave to your back, and facing Fusz Hall, walk toward the left out of the parking lot, then turn right and walk into campus. Turn right again and follow the length of the building to MOCRA’s entrance (3).

Two spaces for handicapped parking (♿) are located in a smaller lot closer to MOCRA. To access this handicapped parking, enter the driveway adjacent to Iggy’s Restaurant (3761 Laclede Ave) (1). Look for the blue and white “MOCRA” signs on nearby lampposts. Proceed to the alley at the driveway’s end. Turn right, then left. Pass from the larger parking area into the small lot (2) behind MOCRA’s building, and park in one of the designated spaces. From here, head into campus, then turn right and follow the length of the building to MOCRA’s entrance (3).

Alternatively:

Street parking (free on Sundays) is available on the streets bordering the campus. There is also University Parking Garage on Laclede Ave at Grand Blvd (5) that offers free visitor parking on Sundays.

- ① driveway entry from Laclede Ave.
- ② MOCRA visitor parking and loading dock
- ③ MOCRA entrance
- ④ Clock Tower
- ⑤ Saint Louis University parking garage
- ⑥ Laclede Classroom Building parking lot
